PG DEPARTMENT OF SOCIAL WORK

REPORT ON ICT USAGE

PRINCIPAL

Report

ICT (Information and Communication Technology) plays a major role in improving teaching, learning, administration, and communication within the college system.

In colleges, Information and Communication Technology (ICT) is used for enhancing learning with multimedia and online resources, facilitating student-teacher and student-student collaboration through platforms, and streamlining administrative tasks like admissions and fee payments. It also provides access to a vast amount of information beyond the curriculum and equips students with essential digital skills for their future careers.

For students and learning

- Enhanced learning experience: Multimedia presentations, interactive whiteboards, and 3D models make complex topics easier to understand.
- Access to resources: Students can access a vast online library of e-books, research papers, and other materials for literature searches and self-directed learning.
- Collaboration: Online platforms like Google Classroom and Slack enable seamless communication, project collaboration, and resource sharing with peers and instructors.
- Flexibility: Online learning platforms allow students to learn from anywhere at any time, which is particularly helpful for those who cannot attend in person due to geographical or other limitations.
- Digital skills development: Integrating ICT into the curriculum helps students develop crucial digital literacy, coding, and data analysis skills necessary for the modern workforce.

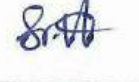

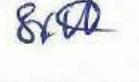

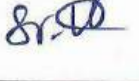

Conclusion:

ICT in colleges like FLIN College enhances efficiency, promotes interactive learning, and connects students and staff in a digital learning environment. It transforms traditional education into a modern, technology-driven system.
